The contract was signed in duplicate and forwarded to New York for the signature of the president of the Public Service Company. The contract becomes effective on December 15, or as soon thereafter as possible.

There is also a separate contract between the city and the company whereby the company will take over the poles, wiring and other street lighting equipment owned by the city at present. the company to pay for this material the sum of $6,000. This contract will be drawn up later as the legislature will have to empower the aldermen to make this sale before it can be done.

The contract in full follows:

North Carolina, Guilford County:

This contract, made and entered into this the 21st day of November, 1910, by and between the North Carolina Public Service Company, a corporation duly created, organized and existing under and by virtue of the laws of the State of North Carolina, hereinafter referred to as the company, party of the first part, and the city of Greensboro, a municipal corporation created and existing under and by virtue of the laws of said State, hereinafter referred to as the city, party of the second part,

Witnesseth:

That Whereas, said company is engaged, among other things, in the business of furnishing arc lamps and arc lamp system for the purpose of lighting the streets of municipalities; and

Whereas, the said city is desirous of having installed and operated in said city an adequate arc lamp system, together with a number of Tungsten street lamps for the purpose of lighting its streets; and

Whereas, the parties hereto are desirous of contracting each with the other upon the terms hereinafter expressed;

Now, therefore, in consideration of the mutual stipulations, promises and agreements hereinafter set out, the said parties hereto do hereby contract each with the other as follows:

First: The company hereby contracts and agrees to equip and install at its own expense within the corporate limits of the city of Greensboro an electric arc lamp system, of not less than one hundred and seventy-five (175) arc lamps and will, during the life of this contract maintain and operate the same in the most approved manner, said system to be amply sufficient to supply not less than one hundred and seventy-five (175) four ampere, direct current, series, luminous arc or magnetite lamps of two thousand (2000) nominal candle power, or their equivalent in Tungsten street lamps, and to keep said lamps burning all night and every night in the year from early dusk to dawn for the period of ten (10) years from and after the 15th day of December, 1910, upon the city's paying to the company for the service thus rendered the sum of fifty eight ($58) dollars per annum for each arc light, in equal monthly installments, payment to be made on or before the 10th day of each month succeeding the month in which said service is furnished as aforesaid: Provided, that in cloudy weather the lamps shall be turned on earlier and turned off later, if necessary, to illuminate the streets on account of the condition of the weather.

Second: That the arc lamps to be furnished as herein provided shall be the latest type Westinghouse magetite or General Electric luminous arc lamps.

Third: And the said company further contracts and agrees that in the event the city should at any time during the life of this contract desire more than one hundred and seventy-five (175) arc lamps or their equivalent in Tungsten lamps, that it will install such number of lamps of the quality and kind aforesaid as the city may desire, and cause them to be kept burning as provided in paragraph one hereinbefore set out at the rate of fifty eight (58) dollars per annum for each additional arc lamp so installed and operated, payment therefore to be made as above set out.

Fourth: That in lieu of installing, maintaining and operating all arc lamps as hereinbefore provided the company will install and operate such number of Tungsten street lamps as may be determined by the Water and Light Commission of said city at the following prices:

For each 100 Watt Tungsten street lamps, 80 candle power, twenty ($20) dollars per annum; and for each 75 Watt Tungsten street lamp, 60 candle power, fifteen (15) dollars per annum; said Tungsten lamps to be kept burning all night and every night from early dusk to dawn during the term of this contract; provided, the arc lamps together with the said Tungsten lamps shall be the equivalent of one hundred and seventy-five (175) arc lamps, as hereinbefore provided.

And provided further, that installing any one Tungsten lamp the company shall not be required to locate the same at a greater distance than four hundred (400) feet from any line, circuit or lamp unless the city shall agree to pay the expense required in running the lines the additional distance over and above the said four hundred (400) feet, payment for said Tungsten lamps to be made as set out in paragraph one above.

Fifth: And the said company does hereby further contract and agree that when the city of Greensboro, in accordance with the rights hereinbefore granted to the city to require the company to increase its lighting system, shall have so increased it until it shall have installed and in use not less than two hundred and fifty (250) arc lamps or their equivalent in Tungsten lamps, that thereafter the price shall be fifty six ($56) dollars per annum for each arc lamp, and should the system be increased until there shall have been installed not less than three hundred and fifty (350) arc lamps or their equivalent in Tungsten lamps, thereafter the price for each arc lamp shall be reduced to fifty four ($54) dollars per annum but the increase of the lighting system as in this section provided shall not effect the price to be paid for Tungsten lamps as hereinbefore provided.

Sixth: And the said company does further agree that in the event of its failure to keep any lamp burning all night and every night as above stipulated, that the city shall have the right to deduct from the monthly bills to be rendered hereunder double the amount that the company would have received had such lamps been burning all night as contemplated herein, and that the amount shall be determined by the number of hours such lamps are burning, and shall be calculated upon the basis of said lamps being required to burn four thousand (4000) hours per annum, such amount so to be deducted to be as liquidated damages paid by the company for such failure, it being understood and agreed that the city will be damaged to the amount above provided in the event of failure to keep said lamps burning:

Seventh: And the said company does further agree to build its lines for said lighting system and to locate the lamps agreed to be install and operated at such points within the city of Greensboro as may be designated by the Water and Light Commission, or such body or officer, as may be named by the Board of Aldermen of the city of Greensboro for such purpose, and that said lamps shall at all times be kept in such order and repair, and the lights in such a state of efficiency, and the electric current furnished shall be of such character, quality and quantity as to give the best service capable of being given with said lamps according to electrical engineering standards and practices.

Eigth: And the said company does hereby agree that it will at any time during the life of this contract, upon request of the city, change the location of any lamp or lamps which may have theretofore been located in accordance with the terms hereof: Provided, that all expense attendant upon such change of location shall be paid by the city.

Ninth: And the said company does further agree to indemnify and save harmless the city from any and all loss or damage occasioned by the negligence of the company, its officers, agents or employees in the installation, maintenance or operation of said lighting system in the city of Greensboro as aforesaid:

DEMOCRATS AT BANQUET BOARD

Chairman Sherrill Host at Enjoyable Affair.

Gave Supper Last Night Complimentary To Workers of North Gilmer, the Banner Democratic Township of County—Tempting Menu Served, Interspersed With Talks by Several of the Candidates and Others.

Last evening at Hotel Clegg, Democratic County Chairman E. G. Sherrill gave a most enjoyable spread, complimentary to the workers of North Gilmer township, the banner precinct in the county. Invitations reading as follows had been sent to about seventy-five of the hardest workers of the precinct and nearly all responded:

"Mr. E. G. Sherrill requests the pleasure of your company at a banquet at the Hotel Clegg given to Democrats of North Gilmer, the banner Democratic precinct of Guilford, Monday evening, the twenty-first of November, one thousand nine hundred and ten, at nine forty-five o'clock."

In addition to the precinct workers Mr. Sherrill had as his guests the county candidates, or as many as could be present, Major Stedman being given the seat of honor.

The following menu was served in Proprietor Clegg's usual fine style, the courses being interspersed with short talks by the candidates and several speakers:

Lynhaven Oysters
Celery
Mixed Pickles Mangoes
Fried Oysters
Quail on Toast
Ice Cream Assorted Cake
Cheese Crackers Coffee
Cigars

Mr. Sherrill stated that he had promised the workers of the precinct that if they would overcome the Republican majority of 40 that he would give a dinner and inasmuch as this majority had been overcome and a Democratic majority of 62 substituted he felt that it was his duty to fulfill his promise. He wanted each candidate present to voice his thanks to the workers of North Gilmer for their efforts. Short talks were made by Maj. Stedman, Capt. Forbis, G. H. McKinney, J. Al Rankin, Former Chairman C. A. Hines, Thomas Bangle, N. L. Eure, Andrew Joyner, Squire Sims, T. J. Murphy.

Chairman Sherrill arranged for a car to leave the hotel at 11:45 with the banqueters and from 10 to 11:40 the workers enjoyed the substantial repast provided and good cheer and good fellowship prevailed. A rising vote of thanks was tendered Chairman Sherrill; and also Mr. Clegg for the manner in which they had arranged the affair.

RECITALS AT THE NORMAL COLLEGE

Arrangements Made For a Series of Four By Artists.

Arrangements have been perfected for a series of four artist recitals during the present musical season. The first of these will be given on Thanksgiving night in the college auditorium by the Bostonia Sextette Club, the most noted organization of the kind in the United States. One of the distinguished players who will appear is Mr. C. L. Staats, who is celebrated in both Europe and in this country as a clarinet virtuoso. In addition to the ensemble numbers, vocal solos will be given by Miss Katharine Meller, the popular Boston soprano.

Owing to the fact that the student body and the faculty of the college have already taken about 500 tickets, the management is able to offer the series to the general public for the extremely low price of $1.50. Admission to any single concert will be fifty cents. All the concerts of the series will be given in the college auditorium. The other entertainments in the course are the Metropolitan Grand Concert Company, composed of Mme. Luella Chilson-Ohrman, soprano, Miss Adah Campbell Hussey, contralto, Mr. Humbird Duffey, tenor, and Mr. Frederic Matrin, basso. The third concert is given by Dorothy Lethbridge, pianist, who is known throughout Europe as the English Tina Lerner. The fourth and last concert is distinctively American and is one that should appeal to Greensboro people, since both artists are southern women. Miss Florence Larrabee is the pianist and Miss Florence Hardeman violinist.

Further announcements in regard to these concerts will be made.

WHERE EVERYONE FACES DEATH

Everywhere in New Guinea the traveler is continually brought face to face with death, and the natives are devoid of the slightest pity or respect for the dead or dying, although after a death they will often wail and mourn for a considerable time. Murder is an everyday occurrence, and nothing could be worse than the morals of the natives. In fact, they have none; they thieve and lie with a persistence and cunning which is surprisng.

The Papuans have a cheerful custom which demands a life for a life; should anyone die, at the first opportunity they kill some one—they are not very particular whom—to make up for it. While we were at Humboldt Bay, says Professor Pratt in the December Wide World Magazine, a Malay died of dropsy; he was the first Malay who had ever come to that part, and the Papuans greatly respected him. "Very well," they said, "we must shoot a Malay with our bows and arrows to pay for his death." And, sooner or later, some innocent person would be killed to square the account, when everybody—except, presumably, the victim's friends—would be satisfied.

Then It Isn't Wrong to Smoke.

"Money isn't everything," sighed the young man.

"Of course not," said the girl. "I know of a couple who started housekeeping nicely on tobacco coupons alone."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

Saves an Iowa Man's Life.

The very grave seemed to yawn before Robert Madsen, of West Burlington, Iowa, when, after seven weeks in the hospital, four of the best physicians gave him up. Then was shown the marvelous curative power of Electric Bitters. For, after eight months of frightful suffering from liver trouble and yellow jaundice, getting no help from other remedies or doctors, five bottles of this matchless medicine completely cured him. Its positively guaranteed for Stomach, Liver or Kidney troubles and never disappoints. Only 50 c. at Fariss-Klutz Drug Co.

A Song for Two

This time it is to be a duet—the words and music complete—that will go with each and every copy of next Sunday's New York World—by all odds the greatest Magazine-Newspaper pubished in the United States.

This song, well known and highly lauded as the "Pastoral Duet" from "Madame Troubadour" now playing at the Lyric theatre, New York City, will prove well worthy of a place in your music collection.

But, as goodas it is, this song is but one of many reasons why you should order next Sunday's New York World from your newsdealer in advance.

RESOLUTIONS OF SYMPATHY.

Church of Covenant Mourns Loss of Dr. Thos. R. Little.

The following resolutions have been adopted by the congregation of the Church of the Covenant:

Whereas an All-wise Providence in His infinite goodness and love has taken from us our beloved Elder, Dr. Thos. R. Little, we, his co-workers in the Church of the Covenant, desire to express ourselves in the following statement to be spread upon the minutes of our Session, and sent to the wife of our deceased brother with expressions of our deep sympathy for her and the other members of the family:

Shortly after the organization of our church, Dr. Little transferred his membership from the First Presbyterian church to the Church of the Covenant because he felt that his influence and work were more needed in the newly organized church in his community. Our church recognizing his true worth, in March of this year elected him one of its ruling Elders. Since his election to the position of ruling Elder we have seen his real devotion to the interest of the church. He was always studying her welfare, and he frequently suggested to our pastor some line of procedure after having paved the way for effectve work.

Whenever the church Session met, he always made a special effort to be present, and we knew that he had a sympathetic interest in every question which came to us for action. He was careful, conscientious and intellgent in the discharge of every duty. While we bow in humble submission to the will of Him who doeth all things well, yet we will miss his wise counsel and devoted interest.

A Household Medicine.

To be really valuable must show equally good results from each member of the family using it. Foley's Honey and Tar does just this. Whether for children or grown persons Foley's Honey and Tar is best and safest for all coughs and colds. Howard Gardner.

A HISTORIC GUILLOTINE.

It Is One of the Few Saved from Restoration Days.

At the Hotel Drouot, Paris, where the Society of Auctioneers, is established, the upper floor was crowded recently for the sale of different objects contained in the collection of the late M. Forgeron.

One of the first articles to be submitted was a guillotine without the knife, but a guillotine with a history. It was made for some provincial mayor in 1791, and was used for the execution of half of the inhabitants of a countryside. Its first owner and user is now said to have been mentally deficient or diseased. He used to appear at political meetings in Paris stripped to the waist. The exceptional interest which was taken in the machine was due to the rarity of such an object. At the Restoration, if not before, almost every guillotine was destroyed. This one, however, was put away in a garret in the town hall, and was not discovered until 50 years ago.

It was sold for rather more than $180 to the owner of a popular cafe concert. It is to be exhibited there, songs are to be written about it, and to be sung in front of it.

Dressed in "Black and Yellow."

Not "Football Colors" but the color of the carton containing Foley's Honey and Tar the best and safest remedy for all coughs and colds. Do not accept a substitute but see that you get the genuine Foley's Honey and Tar in a yellow carton with black letters. Howard Gardner.

The biggest fight to get in to get merchandise at Lesser's Removal Sale that ever Greensboro has witnessed. People from all over the county came to get their bargains. Special in shoes, clothing and ladies' furnishings. No wonder, this is the only Original Sale which sells good seasonable winter goods at 33c and 50c. on the dollar; next two days, commencing Monday and Tuesday November 21 and 22 Mr. Lesser promises an extra 10 per cent. rebate on all clothing and shoes besides the low prices already marked down. So don't fail to come; you will never regret it. It's the orginal Bargains in merchandise that no sale has ever given. Remember Lesser's Removal Sale, Red Sign Front, 354 South Elm street. DAY 762 PHONES NIGHT 1442

HOW HE WAS SAVED

By WILLIS BEACH POTTER

Copyright, 1910, by American Press Association.

There had been a lot o' cussedness in Galloway county, and the people was hot to find some un to string up fer a warnin'. Ole Man Thompson had been murdered in his bed and $200 taken. Bill Stimson was held up on the road and relieved of his watch and chain. These and other crimes were committed, yet no one was arrested.

About that time my brother Tim come from Californy and was stayin' with me on the farm. Tim was as peaceable a feller as you ever see—wouldn't hurt nobody. But he liked to hunt, and, it bein' in the fall o' the year, when game was plenty, I got a lot o' my friends to go over into Mason county, where there was woodcock. We took a kit with us, calculatin' to be gone a week.

Waal, one evenin' when we was collectin' in camp all on us got in except Tim. When we sot down to supper he wasn't there, and when it was time to turn in we was obleeged to do it without him. I wanted to go out and hunt for him, but the rest 'lowed I couldn't find him in the dark, that he'd got lost or somep'n and would turn up next day.

Waal, about midnight I was woke up by Tim himself.

"By gum, Tim!" I says. "Have y' seen a ghost?"

He was the most skeered feller you ever seen—white as the snow and his teeth a chatterin'. As soon as he could ketch his breath he said:

"They're comin' to hang me. I was watchin' fer birds when I met a man who looked at me kind o' queer. He went off and come back with two other men. They all tied my hands and tuk me to a small town. A feller was brought in, who looked at me and said, "That's him." Then they all set around and talked me over. I knew they tuk me fer some un else, and there wasn't no use tryin' to make 'em think I wasn't. Most of 'em was for hangin' me right up at onct. They said if the law got a holt of me I'd never be punished. I begged so hard for 'em to give me one day to prove who I was that at last they consented.

"They tuk me to some un's office and left me in charge of two of 'em. One of the two left me in charge of the other, while he went off to git somep'n for 'em both to drink. He brought back a bottle, which they finished, then the other one, he went off and got another bottle, and by the time they'd drank that they was both drunk. First one went to sleep then the other. I dug out and here I am. As soon as I'm missed I'll be follered."

I woke up the other men, Abe Woodruff and Oliver Swayne, and we held a consultation. Ef they come to take Tim there'd probably be enough of 'em to take him in spite of all we could do, but we was four shotguns in the party and concluded to put up a fight rather'n have 'em take him. About 4 o'clock in the mornin' we heard the barkin' o' dogs, and I knowed they'd find Tim shore, since they was after him with bloodhounds.

We wasn't fur from Jimtown, where there's a postoffice, and the railroad runs through it. While we was consultin' we seen a man git up on a platform and hang a mail bag to one o' them posts what's used fer deliverin' the bag to a man in the mailcar on a pasin' train without its stoppin'. The man left the bag and went away. The barkin' was comin' mighty near, and I concluded I'd go out and meet the posse and have a talk with 'em. Restin' my shotgun across the pommel of my saddle, I rode forward, crossin' the track beside which the mail bag hung, lookin' in the night for all the world like a man swingin' on a gallows. At fust it seemed it meant that my brother would swing shore. Then all on a suddent an idee come to me. There was a faint light in the east when I met the party comin' down the road. I counted ten of 'em.

"Hello!" I says. "What's up?"

"Yistiday," said one on 'em, "we caught the man that killed ole Thompson. Sam Jones found him hidin' in a wood. We tuk him and was keepin' him under guard till tomorrer mornin' to hang him. Alf Andrews and Charlie Moore was watchin' him, but he got 'em both drunk and lit out."

"Waal," says I, "there's two crowds of us got onto the same purpose, and we got ahead of you. He was hidin' from us when you tuk him. When he escaped, like a fool, he run right agin us. We strung him up at onct, fearin' he'd git away if we didn't."

"You don't mean it?"

"Yas, we done it."

"Whar did you hang him?"

"Right over there. I kin show him to you, but we don't want no interference with the body, since I give him my word of honor I'd send it to his wife for burial."

I tuk 'em whar they could see the mail bag, but not very near it.

"It looks all right," said the leader o' the party, "but I think we'd ought to see that it's our man."

"No," I says, "I've done all I ort to do showin' you the corpse. We got a huntin' party over there, and I'm shore none of 'em would let any one interfere."

They consulted, and, seein' we was armed and they wasn't, they concluded to turn around and go back. But they didn't doubt the mail bag was a swingin' corpse.

Tim went back to Californy.

The Democrats are divided on the wisdom of the proposed conference of leaders in Baltimore. That being so, the best thing to do will be to call off the conference.

Practice is understood to make perfect, but there is point to the opinion of the Philadelphia Public Ledger, which says:

The Sugar Trust has been caught stealing again. Considering the plenitude of its practice, it is singularly maladroit at larceny.

The life cost of being prepared for war is not inconsiderable. A lieutenant and three men were killed at Indian Head, Md., Saturday while testing a new gun. Such accidents are frequent. Maintaining the second greatest navy is costly in human life as well as in dollars and cents.

It has been stated in New York that Senator Boies Penrose, of Pennsylvania, will be President Taft's closed adviser during the coming year. President Taft has fallen considerably in the estimation of people, but surely there can't be many who think little enough of him to be prepared to believe the above mentioned report.

Gov. Crothers, of Maryland, says the Democrats ought to say what they are going to do. The advice is eminently unwise. The Democrats want to take plenty of time to decide what they are going to do. They want to do the best thing for the country and to do it will take thought and deliberation. There is no need of being "brash" just because a victory has been won.

At a Friends Meeting in Baltimore last week it was decided that its members should work for the abolition of the death sentence for murder in the United States. Undoubtedly there is much discrimination in the enforcement of the law as affecting capital cases and it would seem that since the law is not fairly administered it might be well to change it so that it would mean death for no one. But we suspect that the abolition of the death sentence would vastly increase the number of lynchings in this country.

Richard Croker, on his annual return trip to this country, expresses the opinion that the Republican tariff hasn't anything to do with the high cost of living. Well, there's no denying that it explains the high living of some people and the people naturally resent laws that favor a few people at the expense of the many. It is up to every man to support himself and his family. The tariff as now administered pours riches into the lap of those already rich. The average man objects to that sort of thing and his objection is sound.

Col. Roosevelt is not a bit fond of Eugene N. Foss, the Governor-elect of Massachusetts, having said in his anger and apparently without foundation that Foss is a stock juggler or something of the sort. He no doubt turned purple with anger when he read the Monday morning papers conveying the tidings that Foss had issued a statement demanding that Henry Cabot Lodge, whom Col. Roosevelt is known greatly to admire, refrain from standing for re-election as United States Senator. Mr. Foss holds that Senator Lodge does not stand for the things which a majority of the people of Massachusetts stand for and that consequently he has no right to represent them in the United States Senate.

Count Leo Tolstoi, the noted Russian writer, died early Sunday morning. He was known as a very odd sort of a man, the reason being that he insisted that the literal interpretation of the sermon on the Mount was the only rule of Christian life. Every one understands that Christianity is a thing of slow and often discouraging growth. The Christianity of today is, we believe, nearer the kind of Christianity that Christ taught than that of five hundred or a thousand years ago. The Christianity of five hundred of a thousand years hence may measure up to Tolstoi's ideas. Like all other great men he was ahead of his time. But he was the king of Russia, albeit uncrowned. The Czar of all the Russias, so far as a place in the heart of the world is concerned, is a nonentity when compared with the great author and thinker who has just passed away.

THE LIGHTING CONTRACT MADE.

the stipulations on its part contained in this agreement, does hereby agree to pay therefor the sum of fifty eight (58) dollars per annum, for the luminous or magnetite type of of arc lamps of two thousand (2000) nominal candlepower, and twenty ($20) dollars per annum for each Tungsten lamp of eighty (80) nominal candle power, and fifteen ($15) dollars per annum for each Tungsten lamp of sixty (60) nominal candle power, and when the number shall have been increased to two hundred and fifty (250) arc lamps, or their equivalent in Tungsten lamps, to pay the sum of fifty six ($56) dollars per annum for each arc lamp installed and operated as above provided, and when the number shall have been increased to three hundred and fifty (350) arc lamps or their equivalent in Tungsten lamps the sum of fifty-four ($54) dollars per lamp per annum for each arc lamp installed and operated as above provided, payments to be made monthly, as set out in paragraph one hereof; and in case of the outage of any of such lamps to accept from the company as full liquidated damages double the amount the city would have been required to pay for the use of said lamp had it been burning; based upon said lamp's being required to burn four thousands (4000) hours per annum.

Eleventh: It is further mutually agreed by and between the parties hereto that should the city fail for ten (10) days to pay the monthly bill rendered by the company, that the company shall have the right, upon ninety (90) days notice in writing to the city of its purpose so to do, to discontinue the service hereinbefore provided to be furnished; but any failure upon the part of the company to discontinue the service for the non-payment of the bills shall not be construed as a waiver of its right so to do, but it may at any time for the reason and upon the terms and conditions aforesaid discontinue said service notwithstanding the fact that it has heretofore on one or more occasions failed to exercise such right when it would have been legally entitled to do so.

Twelfth: It is further mutually agreed that the company shall have the right, from time to time, as hereinafter provided as the science of electric lighting advances, or as improvements therein are made, to change the system of arc or incandescent lights herein agreed to be installed and operated, Provided, that at no time shall a lamp or the system be changed when such change of lamp or system will give the city less light and candle power than that hereinbefore agreed to be given in this contract; It being understood that each arc lamp to be furnished hereunder shall furnish a light of two thousand (2000) nominal candle power and each 100 watt Tungsten lamp, a light of eighty (80) nominal candle power and each seventy-five (75) watt Tungsten lamp, a light of sixty (60) nominal candle power; and provided further, that no change in the lamps or system shall be made unless such change shall be assented to by the Board of Aldermen of said city:

Thirteenth: It is further mutually agreed by and between the parties hereto that this contract and all the provisions thereof shall go into effect on the 15th day of December, 1910, or as soon thereafter as the company may be able to install the lighting system herein provided for, and shall continue for the period of ten (10) years from and after the said 15th day of December, 1910.

Fourteenth: It is further agreed between the parties hereto that if at any time any controversy shall arise between the said city and the said company as to the failure of either party hereto to perform any stipulation on its part contained in this agreement, the same shall be referred to arbitrators, one to be selected by the Board of Aldermen of said city, and the other by the company, and in the event of their failure to agree these two to select a third party, and the award of said arbitrators or of any two of them, shall be final and binding on the parties thereto.

Fifteenth: It is further mutually understood and agreed between the parties hereto that inasmuch as there is some doubt as to whether the city under its charter has the power to make a binding contract for lighting its streets for a period of ten (10) years, that this contract on the part of the city is made subject to the approval and ratification of the General Assembly of North Carolina, and that the city will at the approaching session of the said General Assembly take steps and use its best endeavors to have such legislation enacted as to make this a binding contract on the part of the city.

In witness whereof, the parties hereto have caused these presents to be executed in duplicate in their respective corporate names by their proper officers and with their respective corporate seals affixed, the company having been heretofore authorized so to contract under its charter and by laws, and by resolution of its board of directors and the city having been heretofore so authorized under and by virtue of a resolution of its Board of Aldermen passed at a meeting held in its Council Chamber in the City of Greensboro on the 19th day of November, 1910.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

FOOTBALL GAME ON THANKSGIVING

Contest Thursday Between Fayetteville and Greensboro High Schools Promises to Be Best Game of Season In Greensboro—Out-of-town Lovers of the Sport Will Be Here to Witness Contest.

That the contest between the football teams of the Greensboro and Fayetteville high schools here Thanksgiving afternoon will be one of the most interesting and hotly contested games ever seen here, is the prediction of Mr. Wright, manager, of the local team. Claiming the championship of eastern North Carolina, the Fayetteville eleven comes to make a determined effort to defeat the Greensboro team and thus be able to claim the championship of North Carolina high schools. The local eleven, which has held the State championship for several seasons, is equally determined that it shall again win this coveted honor, and this gives promise of a hard-fought and exciting game.

Thanksgiving Day has ever been considered the great football occasion of the year, and the lovers of the game in Greensboro are to be congratulated upon having this battle royal between the young and vigorous football players of the State. It is expected that a number of people from out of the city will be here to witness the game, while the interest shown here insures a large attendance of Greensboro folks.

FOUND DEAD IN HIS CARRIAGE

Strange Death of Negro Hackman.

Raymond Moir, a Colored Driver, Found Dead in His Carriage in Warnersville, Early Sunday Morning—No Mark of Violence on Body—Coroner At Work on Case, But No Clue—Much Speculation Among Negroes.

Sunday morning about six o'clock Raymond Moir, a negro carriage driver, was found dead in his carriage on Body street, Warnersville. Moir was about 21 years of age.

The body was first discovered by two negroes, James Allen and Dolph Wilson, who at once set out to notify police headquarters. Sergeant Jones went to the scene and found the body, which was still warm, lying between the two seats with a lap robe about it.

It is a strange affair, and there is much speculation among the negroes as to how it happened. Some believe that Moir was poisoned. Still others say that he "jes' died simultaneously," and feeling the death chill coming on, wrapped himself with his robe and lay down to sleep the sleep of the dead. One darkey avers that he was seen in a state of drunkenness at a late hour on Saturday night, driving up Ashe street; and indeed the circumstances would seem to warrant the truth of this evidence. Moir's hat was gone, the singletree was broken, the traces hitched to crosspieces of shafts, and the horse tied to a tree. All of which would seem to indicate that John Barleycorn was implicated in the affair. But upon examination of the body, by the county physician, Dr. Fortune, not even the slightest bruise could be found. And so the mystery remains. There is as yet not a vestige of evidence upon which to work, and the next step will be to make a post mortem examination of the stomach to ascertain if there be any trace of poison.

Coroner Wood has selected a jury, and today at 10:30 o'clock they will go to McNeill's undertaking establishment to view the body, after which they will go to the scene of the tragedy where they will study the surroundings and circumstances; thence back to the city, when there will be an examination of witnesses at the court house. No spectators will be allowed at the time of the examination, and the proceedings will be strictly private.

CAUSED GEN. JACKKSON'S DEATH

Strange Story Connected With the Killing of "Stonewall."

Although it was on May 2, 1863, that Gen. "Stonewall" Jackson received the wounds from his own soldiers that caused his death several days later, it was not until this year that John Hayes, a Northern soldier, who was a member of the Third Division Brigade, Second army corps, learned he was the cause of the death of the great Southern soldier. His discovery reveals the actual facts of the circlmstances leading to the death of General Jackson.

Hayes a few days ago visited the field of the battle of Chancellorsville for the first time since the Civil War. His brigade of cavalry had been ordered to report to General Berry while the battle was in progress, but General Berry could not be located. Hays was elected to go down the road, report to General Couch, and ask where the brigade should go. When he had found General Couch his reply was:

"D—n it! Go where the fighting is."

Hays tells the story in these words:

"When I returned my brigade had gone. While searching for them I saw a light squad of horsemen up the road.

I thought they were Union men and rode toward them. It was after 8 o'clock in the evening and I could not see plainly. I had gone but a little way when a heavy volley of musketry was fired so close to me that the guns seemed to flash in my face.

"My horse, never under fire before, wheeled around and started to run down the hill. As I turend I could see there was quite a commotion in the group of horsemen on the road and the thought instantly occurred to me that the volley had taken effect on those horsemen and that I had escaped because I was on the lower ground.

"Upon reading of the account of the shooting of General Jackson several days later I suspected that he had received his wounds from that volley of musketry, but I did not know positively until I visited those scenes recently.

"I rode out to the field with four others, one of whom was a Mr. Taylor, whose father had been a surgeon in the Confederate army, and was on duty at the battde of Chancellorsville. I pointed out as nearly as possible where I had seen the little squad of horsemen on the evening of May 2, 1863, and Mr. Taylor said that was where General Jackson was mortally wounded.

"A monument, near the spot I had pointed out, marks the place where General Jackson fell.

"I was riding my horse in fancied security on that night back in 1863, when that volley of musketry was fired by General Jackson's men, and I had almost reached the Confederate line unconsciously."

MINIATURE GARDENS.

Tiny Lakes, Trees and Houses In Diminutive Japanese Parks.

The Japanese have the art of dwarfing trees to mere shrubs and of cultivating plants in a similar way. The people take great delight in their miniature gardens, which require a special gardener to keep them down to desired limits. A Japanese garden is generally about ten yards square, and in this small space is found a park and demesne, with lake, summer houses, temples, trees, all complete and in keeping with the dimensions available.

One such garden shows a lake four feet long and full of goldfish. On the border stands a pine tree exactly eighteen inches high and fifty years old. Beneath its shade is a temple carved out of one piece of stone the size of a brick. On a lofty crag of some two and a half feet stands a fine maple tree, perfect in form and shape, fifteen years old and twelve inches high.

One household in Japan boasts of a complete garden contained in a shallow two dozen wine case. Everything is complete down to the fish in the lake, a sheet of water only a few inch square, and the footbridges over the water courses. Tea houses there are and numerous trees of various kinds, each about six inches in height. Old as the hills are these diminutive trees, but full of vitality, and yet never growing bigger.—New York Press.

TWO SICKLY CHILDREN

Made Well by Vinol—Letters From Grateful Mothers.

New Haven, Conn.—"My little girl ever since her birth was frail and sickly and nothing seemed to do her any good, until we tried your cod liver and iron tonic, Vinol. As soon as she commenced to take it, I noticed an improvement in her health and appearance. She has now taken three bottles of Vinol and from the good it has done her I can say it will do all you claim for it in building up and strengthening frail and delicate children." (Name furnished on request.)

Another mother of Chicago, Ill.' writes: "My little girl was thin, run-down, pale and without any appetite. Vinol gave her a good appetite,—she has rosy cheeks and has gained rapidly in flesh and strength.

"I canot say too much in praise of Vinol for delicate, ailing children."

We ask every mother of a frail, sickly or ailing child in this vicinity to try Vinol on our agreement to return their money if it does not do all we claim for it. Fariss-Klutz Drug Co., Greensboro, N. C.

PRESAGE OF ACCIDENT ENDS IN GIRL'S DROWNING.

Child at Play After Reward as "Best Pupil in School" Falls From Pier Into River.

New York Herald.

"Mamma, maybe I am going to die today,' said eight-year-old Barbara Regensberger, of No. 238 East Forty-Seventh street, to her mother early yesterday, when Mrs. Regensberger told her little daughter that she felt 'something awful' was going to happen because she had lost a tooth.

The premonition was fulfilled, for later in the day the little girl, when playing on the pier at the foot of East Forty-seventh street, fell overboard and was drowned.

Two cousins of the drowned child, Anna Cook, ten years old, and Barbara Cook, eight, had come from Long Island City to visit her, and were playing with the girl when she fell into the water.

Last week two roses had been given to Barbara by Sister Amilia, of St. Boniface's Parochial School, for being the best little girl in the class.Barbara asked permission of her mother to call on Sister Amelia and thank her again for the roses. After visiting the sister the three children went to the pier. Alongside was a grain barge, and the girls had great fun jumping from the stringpiece to the barge and back, a distance of a foot and a half.

According to the Cook girls, Barbara missed her footing in one of the leaps and fell into the water. The other children screamed for help, but there was nobody in the vicinity to aid them. At last their cries were heard by Policeman Pfeiffer, but when he reached the spot no sign of the child could be found.

The policeman and several citizens searched for two hours, but could not find the body.

THE CHANGING COIFFURES.

"Women More Absurd Than Zanies at the Fair."

Coiffures are perpetually changing. One year the hair of womankind shows an amazing and fertile exuberance. Next year the "crowning glory" of the sex staggers and grows pale and thin. One season it leaps protuberant from her brow; in another it retires in Greek confusion. So far the "Russian medieaval haircut," as it is called, has been confined to children, but already one or two pretty Parisiennes have made a public appearance in a coiffure on these lines, which may, one fears, become prevalent. Again, is there not plenty of room for lateral expansion? Not long since Europe was threatened with the Merode coiffure, which, after all, was not so different from the mid-Victorian idea in its simplicity, not to say severity. Depend upon it, however, some of the old coiffures, timidly tried every year and rejected, will eventually return for a further spell of prosperity.

As for the Elizabethan ruff, that is bound to recur. Brought in modestly at first, as it has been occasionally during the past twenty years, it may i nall likelihood attain such proportions that the Virgin Queen herself would be the first to cry, "Out upon such fashions ,they make us women more absurd than zanies at the fair!"—From "Fashions That Failed" in the December Strand.

Not Sorry for Blunder.

"If my friend hadn't blundered in thinking I was a doomed victim of consumption, I might not be alive now," writes D. T. Sanders, of Harrodsburg, Ky., "but for years they saw every attempt to cure a lung-racking cough fail. At last I tried Dr. King's New Discovery. The effect was wonderful. It soon stopped the cough and I am now in better health than I have had for years. This wonderful life-saver is an unrivaled remedy for coughs, colds, lagrippe, asthma, croup, hemorrhages, whooping cough or weak lungs. 50c, $1.00. Trial bottle free. Temporary Heat Quickly

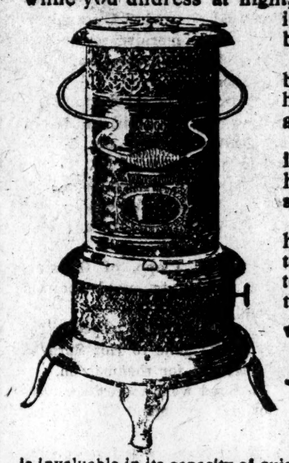
Did you ever stop to think of the many ways in which a perfect oil heater is of value? If you want to sleep with your window open in winter, you can get sufficient heat from an oil heater while you undress at night, and then turn it off. Apply a match in the morning, when you get out of bed, and you have heat while you dress.



Those who have to eat an early breakfast before the stove is radiating heat can get immediate warmth from an oil heater, and then turn it off.

The girl who practices on the piano in a cold room in the morning can have warmth from an oil heater while she plays, and then turn it off.

The member of the family who has to walk the floor on a cold winter's night with a restless baby can get temporary heat with an oil heater, and then turn it off. The

PERFECTION SMOKELESS OIL HEATER

Absolutely smokeless and odorless is invaluable in its capacity of quickly giving heat. Apply a match and it is immediately at work. It will burn for nine hours without refilling. It is safe, smokeless and odorless. It has a damper top and a cool handle. An indicator always shows the amount of oil in the font.

It has an automatic-locking flame spreader which prevents the wick from being turned high enough to smoke, and is easy to remove and drop back so that the wick can be cleaned in an instant.

The burner body or gallery cannot become wedged, and can be quickly unscrewed for rewicking. Finished in japan or nickel, strong, durable, well-made, built for service, and yet light and ornamental.

Make Up Your "List"

Christmas is drawing very near. No use waiting until the eleventh hour. Make up your list today. Jot down the names of all to whom you intend to make presents. That done, mark down what you desire to give them.

Then select every day one or two presents. A small deposit will secure them for you. They will be laid aside until the day before Christmas.

A look at the show windows and the store proper will aid in making selections. Come whenever you like, and as often as you please. We will be very glad to show you around. You will never be urged to buy.

You will probably give at least one watch. By buying it here you will save enough so that for the difference you can secure a very good chain to attach to it.

There will surely be some one to whom you will want to give a ring, to others bracelets, lockets and scarf pins, brooches and studs. For still others you will want little trinkets in silver novelties.

LIFE BEYOND THE GRAVE

Large Crowd Heard O. L. Sullivan, V. D. M., Give His Celebrated Lecture in Neese's Hall Sunday Afternoon.

A large crowd heard O. L. Sullivan, V. D. M., give his celebrated lecture on "Life Beyond the Grave" in Neese's hall Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock. Dr. Sullivan, who is sent out under the auspices of the International Bible Students' Association, is thoroughly conversant with the Scriptures and his lecture, in the main, was devoted to the explanation of those passages from the Book of books that as a rule are not generally understoon.

Dr. Sullivan does not believe in everlasting punishment, but thinks that those who knowingly violate the laws of God will simply die a second death. He contends that no one goes to heaven at death, but the body will lie as if asleep until the morning of the resurrection when those who have kept the faith will pass into life eternal.

Dr. Sullivan travels all the time, but his meetings are arranged in the different cities he visits by subscribers of the Watchtower, of Brooklyn. If no arrangements are made he makes no speech. He is not allowed to receive any money, his expenses being paid by the association. While in the city he was entertained by Mr. G. T. McLamb, who was largely instrumental in arranging for the lecture.

IT IS ALL RIGHT

to ask a friend to do you a favor when it is impossible to secure the favor in any other way. But why ask a friend to go on your bond as surety when the Greensboro Loan & Trust Company can give better security than an individual at no extra cost for its faithful discharge of its duty as a trustee or executor or administrator. Why should you sign a bond by which your "heirs, executors, administrators and assigns are held and firmly bound" to pay for the default of others; perhaps after your death, every dollar of your estate? Tell your friend not to burden you with such a grave responsibility. Let the Greensboro Loan & Trust Company become responsible.

Talk this over with us—it will assist you.
